[1] Credit sales are not completely comparable to net sales in some kind of business classifications since certain establishments did not answer this inquiry, and also what constituted credit sales for census purposes was in some few instances interpreted differently by reporting companies.

[2] The total expenses for chain store warehouses include the cost of superintendence and supervision of the retail stores, since practically all chain store systems have so reported to the bureau.

[3] Includes 1 small auction company; combined in order to avoid disclosing data for individual establishments.

[4] The information for establishments in Cranston and Warwick is not shown on account of disclosure of individual operations.

[1] The first part of this table indicates the extent of commodity coverage, i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kinds of business classifications. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade. For explanation of commodities included in each classification see complete text.

[2] The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason, the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances.

[1] The first part of this table indicates the extent of commodity coverage, i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kind of business classifications. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade.

[2] The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason, the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances.

[1] Credit sales are not on a basis completely comparable to net sales in some kind-of-business classifications since certain establishments did not answer this inquiry, and also what constituted credit sales for census purposes was in some few instances interpreted differently by reporting companies.

[2] Includes 4 cash-and-carry wholesalers and 2 drop shippers.

[3] Includes 3 establishments handling milk and cream whose net sales amount to $129,729.

[1] The first part of this table indicates the extent of commodity coverage, i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kind of business classifications. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade.

[2] The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason, the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances.

[1] The first part of this table indicates the extent of commodity coverage, i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kind of business classifications. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade.

[2] The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason, the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances.

The first part of the table indicates the extent of commodity coverage, i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kinds of business classification. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade.

The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason, the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances of those returns in which gross sales were used as a basis for reporting the sales by commodities.

[1] The first part of this table indicates the extent of commodity coverage, i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kinds of business classifications. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade.

[2] The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason, the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances of those returns in which gross sales were used as a basis for reporting the sales by commodities.

[1] The first part of this table indicates the extent of commodity coverage, i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kind of business classifications. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade. For explanation of commodities in each classification see complete text.

[2] The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason, the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances of those returns in which gross sales were used as a basis for reporting the sales by commodities.

[1] The first part of this table indicates the extent of commodity coverage, i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kind of business classifications. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributor operating within each trade.

[2] The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason, the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances.

[1] The first part of this table indicates the extent of commodity coverage; i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kind-of-business classifications. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade. For explanation of commodities included in each classification, see complete text.

[2] The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances of those returns in which gross sales were used as a basis for reporting the sales by commodities.

[1] The first part of this table indicates the extent of commodity coverage, i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kind of business classifications. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade.

[2] The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason, the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances.

[1] The first part of this table indicates the extent of commodity coverage, i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kinds of business classifications. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade.

[2] The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason, the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances of those returns in which gross sales were used as a basis for reporting the sales by commodities.

[1] Credit sales are not on a basis completely comparable to net sales in some kind of business classifications since certain establishments did not answer this inquiry, and also what constituted credit sales for census purposes was in some few instances interpreted differently by reporting companies

[2] Includes 14 establishments in "Groceries (general line)" and 4 in "Food and grocery specialties."

[1] The first part of this table indicates the extent of commodity coverage; i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kind-of-business classifications. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade. For explanation of commodities included in each classification see complete text

[2] The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason, the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances of those returns in which gross sales were used as a basis for reporting the sales by commodities.
